What's the reason for that special glow you have today? Could it be your face? Yes, it's a little, um, extreme, fashion-wise. But who would wear clothing and accessories? Thanks to designer David Lee, both worn line of faux fur apparel and accessories that light up in a glowing rainbow

I'm not exactly sure how it works; according to the press release, it's pending technology... Fitted with a small battery pack hidden in the a wearer needs to do is flip the switch to get that lit-from-within glow gasps of wonder from their friends." Well, at least it sounds user-friendly. Prices range from $99 for a faux-fur collared jacket to $995 for a full glowing coat. The leggings are calling my name...
